Manchester native Dan Prindle (pictured) began a musical journey with proggy jam band Rane, opening for the likes of Santana and the Allman Brothers. Prindle then worked as a bassist- and cellist-for-hire, leaving his mark with live performances and backing track recordings. Now, he returns as a solo musician, having just released his debut album, Where You Land. The album has Prindle channelling his technical ability into the realm of pop songcraft. The Auburn Mode will open.
